

REVIVE has received financial support from ICDF Foundation and Psalto in order to sponsor young people who wants to attend the conference. There are two ways to get support.

Alternative 1, discount code:

The first 10 people between 13 and 30 years old who sends an email will get a discount code of NOK 1,000 to cover part of the conference ticket. To get the discount code to use for registration, send an email to psalto@psalto.se, answering these following questions:

1. What's your name?
2. How old are you?
3. Where are you from?
4. What is your experience with dance?
5. What is your motivation for coming to the conference?

Alternative 2, grant:

If you are between 13 and 30 years old and have a hard time covering the costs for the conference and you didn't get the discount code from alternative1 , there is also an opportunity to apply for a grant of NOK 1,000 if you send an email to psalto@psalto.se, before 22 July, answering these following questions:

1. What's your name?
2. How old are you?
3. Where are you from?
4. What is your experience with dance?
5. What is your motivation for coming to the conference?

A committee will review the applications and you will get an answer in mid-August if your application has been approved or not.

We will also ask everyone who gets the support to record a video of themselves answering questions after the conference as an evaluation which we can publish and use for advertising future conferences.
